ABOUT THE FDP

Human beings have traversed a long way in their journey from primitive caves till space. This journey of human race has been marked by constant endeavour to advance in all possible fields with an intent to tackle the challenges which a dynamic society constantly possess during its process of evolution and growth. All the achievements which human beings have attained can be attributed to their innate curiosity, inquisitiveness, and a desire to have a better quality of life marked by peace and posterity. As a result, today our modern society is full of magnificent inventions which have adequately dealt with social and legal challenges in the past. However the society is perpetually evolving, consistently raising new issues and challenges which need to be addressed immediately.

Academically our progress is par excellence. But still, we have to go a long way. Apart from scientific developments and inventions, the concept of globalization, liberalization, post modernism, cybernism have given rise to many problems and challenges. All these problems are peculiar and enormous in nature. They are the subject matter of various disciplines. Evidently, a solution to these problems cannot be reached at with the help of research in only one discipline. This overlapping leads to a strange situation, because these problems demand assistance, co- operation and involvement of all the diverse disciplines. In an era of increasing academic engagement that includes several disciplines under one subject, it is imperative to understand the nuances of multidisciplinary research. Therefore, this FDP aims at addressing certain key social and legal issues by adopting a multidisciplinary approach.

THE BROAD THEMES OF THE FDP ARE

Constitutional Values, Individual liberty and Conflicting interests	Multidisciplinary approaches in Research Methodology	Emerging Issues in the Intellectual Property Rights
New evolving Principles in Criminal Law	Efficacy of Gender Justice and Child Protection laws	International Law and Human Rights
An understanding into the Process of Public Policy Making	Movement against Sexual Violence in a Globalized World	Relationship of Law & Literature
